The specific context for action at the international level

The UNCCD and its stakes

Combating Desertification, a comprehensive undertaking based on:

- The principle of sustainable development,
- Sharing of responsibility between developing and developed countries,
- International solidarity: international partnerships and global coordination of efforts,
- Partnerships between governments and civil society and the private sector,
- Bottom-up participatory approach,
- Integration of efforts.

Financial Frame Conditions

- Changing International Architecture
 - ❑ Implications for financial instruments
 - ❑ Country leadership
 - ❑ Harmonization & alignment

- Implications at the National Level
 - ❑ Priorities setting (mainstreaming)
 - ❑ Resource allocations (positioning)
 - ❑ Negotiations (competition)
 - ❑ UNCCD institutions (capacity)

Pose challenges that need to be met through new approaches and strategies to support affected country Parties.

Lessons learned in resource mobilization

1. Integration into national development agenda
 2. Creating inter-linkages between various sectors
 3. Optimizing synergies between processes at different levels
- GM response: support systematic approaches to financing at national level

Developing Integrated Financing Strategies (IFS)

Integrated Financing Strategies

The IFS is a guiding framework for locating and developing a mix of financial resources to fund bankable programs and projects related to combating desertification and sustainable land management.

Financial resources include:

- External sources of funding
- Internal source of funding
- Innovating financing instruments and mechanisms

Summarizing the Approach

Bankable Program

Sector	Water	Reforestation	Sust. Agriculture	Protected Areas	Poverty Alleviation
Internal Sources	MoEW + local auth	MoE/MoA + local auth.	MoA + private sector	MoE + local auth.	MoSA + NGOs
External Sources	Use of Donor Matrix to identify right partner per sector External sources will add to allocated internal resources
Innovative Sources	Identify which innovative sources are applicable based on program requirements
